

Unraveling

I let my hair down and my head rolled across the floor and I was not expecting this and

insects came out of my teeth and a fly landed on my eye and

insects came out of my teeth and a woman walks down the stairs in my head and her heels are getting louder and

a woman walks down the stairs in my head and she makes her way out of my ear and pulls the camera up to her face and

my head and the insects are smiling and she takes a picture of us and

my head and the insects are smiling and I don't show up in the picture and she and the insects start laughing and

I don't show up in the picture and
